MAYORS ACADEMY

What is the Mayors' Academy?

The Mayors' Academy for Sustainable Urban Development envisions to create a network of local leaders and to establish a unique peer-to-peer learning opportunity for mayors, especially newly-elected or appointed mayors/governors in the region, through virtual training courses held biweekly and ongoing city- to-city exchanges. The Academy's core objectives are:

Provide capacity development programmes to local authorities' leaders to implement sustainable urban development and increase their leadership and technical capacities on urban sustainability issues (including e.g., financial planning and management, integrated planning, application of smart solutions, inclusive governance and stakeholder engagement, and urban resilience);

Assist mayors to become knowledgeable and committed to the global development agendas and the contributions of cities to achieving the climate and sustainable development targets and goals;

Increase the use of sustainable urban development tools, resources and technical solutions by newly-elected mayors in the region; and foster city-to-city cooperation opportunities;

Facilitate and strengthen the regional resources available to mayors and local authorities, including existing organizations, initiatives, academic institutions and the UN system, in support of implementation of sustainable urban development;

Establish a network of informed mayors and local leaders to serve as regional advocates for sustainable urban development in support of global development agendas.

Newly-elected or appointed mayors/governors

will increase their knowledge in designing, planning and managing sustainable urban development

An executive level, peer-to-peer learning space will be established to support mayors, and potential subject-matter-related partnerships and collaborative actions developed

3

A network of 'Mayors for Sustainability' to connect with regional initiatives and platforms to raise awareness, accelerate actions and strengthen regional cooperation

WHAT CAN THE FELLOWS EXPECT FROM THE MAYORS' ACADEMY FOR SUSTAINABLE URBAN DEVELOPMENT?

City mayors will benefit from a robust and practical curriculum developed to provide the latest knowledge, tools and resources available to support cities, delivered by regional and global experts on urban sustainability. The Academy will draw on the multi-disciplinary expertise from the initiative's partners, including academic and research institutions, regional technical initiatives, local government networks, and the United Nations system, as well as current and former mayors. The selected mayors can expect to:

- 1 Be part of an executive level, peer-to-peer learning space to support mayors to develop potential subject-matter-related partnerships and collaborative actions;
- 2 Join a network of 'Mayors for Sustainability' to connect with regional initiatives and platforms to raise awareness, accelerate actions and strengthen regional cooperation;
- 3 Increase their knowledge in designing, planning and managing sustainable urban development, including sustainable and inclusive city growth, integrated infrastructure, adapting to climate risks, natural resources consumption, local investment plans, land and legal mechanisms for sustainable urban development;
- 4 Increase knowledge on the global development agendas and international frameworks and their relevance to Asia-Pacific cities.
- 5 Access resources supporting cities in Asia Pacific, including the United Nations system, regional networks, technical support programmes and research institutions/academia.

WHAT IS EXPECTED FROM THE FELLOWS?

For this, the city Mayors need to commit to:

Actively participating in sessions and peer-exchange events (trainings, meetings, discussion and research);

Commit to collaborate with the other mayors and participate in the peer-to-peer activities of the Academy.

Be part of the follow-up and evaluation process of the “boot camp”.

Academy alumni are expected to return as resource persons and expert speakers in future academies.

Commitment to promoting sustainable urban development in her/his city, which will contribute to the implementation of the New Urban Agenda and achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals;

Adopting sustainable urban development as a priority to be addressed through inclusive, evidence-based and integrated policies, investment plans and actions.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE TO APPLY AND HOW?

ELIGIBILITY

The Academy Fellowship is designed for newly-elected or appointed mayors/governors in the region. Fellows will be selected based on established criteria, including age, gender and sub-regional balance. The selection committee will be composed by UN ESCAP, UN-Habitat and UCLG-ASPAC, the United Nations University-Institute for Advanced Study of Sustainability (UNU-IAS), the Association of Pacific Rim Universities (APRU) and Institute for Global Environmental Strategies (IGES). Mentors could be identified to support in the selection process , as well as in the preparatory process of those mayors selected to be part of the Academy.

In order for a city Mayor to be eligible, the candidate must:

- Be a newly-elected or appointed mayor/governor, typically in the first third of the term
- Must commit to attending all scheduled components of the Academy (to be determined annually for each class).
- Be located in a member or associate member State of UN ESCAP

Please note:

- Fluency in English will be considered in the selection criteria. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the majority of the sessions would be delivered virtually. If your city is able to provide the translator, it is possible to set up simultaneous translations.
- Be located in a member or associate member State of UN ESCAP
 - The fellowship includes financial support through the project for the city mayors/governors (though in-kind contributions are expected, and co-funding is welcome). Any city in the UN ESCAP region is welcome to apply on a self-financed basis.
